

MR MILTON STEVEN OWOR

Milton is a Human Resources and Business Professional with several years of Local and International work experience in leading multinational companies including British American Tobacco Plc, Royal Dutch Shell, and General Electric Company (GE). Having worked for these companies across Africa, in Europe, and the US over the years. He is well experienced in stewarding Strategic Human Resource Thought Leadership and Business Partnership at Board level.

He holds an MBA in Strategic Human Resource Management (University of Leicester, UK), Certification in Global Business Leadership (INSEAD, France) a Bachelor's degree in Economics and Public Administration (Makerere University), and is a certified Predictive Index Psychometric Analyst.

Milton has previously held several senior HR roles, including roles of the Africa HR Director for GE, Regional HR Director Anglophone Africa for Royal Dutch Shell, Regional HR Director West and Central Africa for British American Tobacco, Regional HR Director East and Southern Africa for British American Tobacco, among others. He is currently Chief People & Culture Officer, at the National Social Security Fund.

Milton is Professional Executive coach, trained and practicing at Advanced level. He is a member of the International Coaching Federation. Currently an Executive coach to many senior Executives in the East Africa region.